Post from This Pagan is for Obama/Biden:

Pagans and Wiccans Unite

Now is the time for us to reject the rhetoric and petty arguments about the things that make our Pagan paths unique and different. Now is the time for us to put aside the threats of voting for McCain/Palin because a candidate did not win the primary.

Now is the time to realize that as citizens, we have an obligation to the very system which allows us to vote in the first place, a civic duty to make sure that the war-mongering, economically disastrous politics of the last two terms are not allowed to continue for another four!

We can ill-afford to chance the unlikely situation that after voting with George Bush 91% of the time, that the 9% maverick ticket of McCain/Palin will suddenly change course if elected. We must make sure that Barack Obama and Joe Biden get elected for the next term, and then we must hold them to their words and promises and not let them off the hook like we have with our current administration. We must stand up as citizens and engage the political will that such great and idealistic men as Jefferson successfully encouraged in his own time.

Being a graphic designer by nature, I've created a logo that plays off the main "O" theme, but is something of a familiar banner under which we can rally! I used a smaller version for my picture, you can find the large version at my site, <http://www.petebeckley.com>
